

Make your favorite activity meaningful!

Research is what will end lung cancer, and YOU have the opportunity to drive that research forward.

It's time to help advance the impact of research by putting together your own fundraiser with the Lung Cancer Research Foundation! You have the power to make a difference when you Fundraise Your Way, and we're here to make sure you succeed!

Taking your hobbies and sharing your creativity and passions with others can be so rewarding. Using those skills to raise funds for research can make it even more rewarding!

Steps for success

- Recruit a friend to help!
- Ask local businesses for sponsorships or in-kind donations of raw materials.
- Be sure to spread the word about your fundraiser.
 - Send out information via email, text and social media.
 - Set up an event on Facebook, then go live and stream it to those not in your area.
 - Create your personal fundraising page through our website, with information about your event.
- Remember the LCRF staff is here for you! We've got lots of ideas, and can help you with your fundraising page, Facebook, email templates, and more.
